OVERVIEW

The Alabama Public Library Service is proud of the progress made by libraries throughout the state. In 1984, we celebrated our twenty-fifth anniversary as a separate state agency. As we look back on our achievements, we find a record number of public libraries to help insure that Alabamians have equal access to information needed in their daily lives. The number of librarians available to assist users has increased, and the quality and quantity of the resources available to each Alabamian has grown dramatically. The successful implementation of the multitype library system concept helps insure the most efficient and effective use of the state's total information resources—so painstakingly developed in the past years. The application of new technology to library processes also helps insure effective use of our scarce resources and demonstrates faster, more efficient service for the library user. Even as we look back over the accomplishments of the past year, we recognize that these only poise us on the threshold for the next year's work.

HIGHLIGHTS FOR 1984

 The Alabama Public Library Service was designated a selective Federal Documents Depository.

 Tremendous progress in the application of new technology was made with the extension of the Montgomery area online circulation system to Autauga-Prattville Library, the implementation of the Birmingham area online circulation system, and the establishment of the Library Management Network to manage a circulation system for libraries in north Alabama.

 The State Legislature appropriated $1,957,846 for state aid to public libraries. State aid in the amount of $.50 was distributed to public libraries in 1984.

 Funds for public library construction were added to the federal grants available from the Library Services and Construction Act. Federal aid was used to fund sixty-two programs for local public library service; assisted in the construction of 14 public library buildings; and enabled libraries of all types to share resources with each other.

 The evaluation report of the three year pilot program which sought to test the feasibility of multitype library systems for Alabama was released. The evaluation report found the multitype systems were effective and recommended the extension of their benefits to other sections of the state.

 The Alabama Public Library Service celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary.

NEW TECHNOLOGY IN ALABAMA'S PUBLIC LIBRARIES

Libraries are increasingly using new technology to automate services that will assist users in finding the information they need. With technical assistance and federal grant funds from the Alabama Public Library Service, local libraries have begun to install online computer-based circulation systems that will eventually be links in a statewide network for resource sharing. Three nodes are in place for Montgomery, Birmingham-Jefferson County, and Northeast Alabama.

Each computer-based circulation system allows participating libraries to maintain circulation records online, query resources available and place reserves in all the libraries sharing the system, and automatically generate overdue notices. By telephone lines, each computer system can call the other systems to query availability and place reserves.

Two regional libraries, Houston-Love Memorial and Choctawhatchee Regional, are using automation to begin converting their manual card catalogs to computer-output-microform catalogs. All their holdings will also be added to ALICAT during the retrospective conversion thus greatly increasing the materials available for resource sharing in the state. The new catalogs for these libraries will be displayed on microform readers and will form a union list of each regional library's holdings.

To insure that all libraries in the state utilize automation and resource sharing as effectively as possible, the Alabama Public Library Service, the Network of Alabama Academic Libraries, the Department of Education, and the Department of Postsecondary Education jointly issued a request for proposals to analyze needs for automation and networking. The proposal calls for recommendations to develop an automation and resource sharing plan for all libraries in Alabama. The plan will include a detailed task list for a cost-effective program that will enable Alabama's residents to obtain the library materials they need regardless of where the materials may be located. Recommendations of systems for local automation as well as linking existing systems are to be part of the plan.

APLS staff in Data Systems and Library Operations held a library automation workshop in five locations in the state. Local public librarians participated to learn about the kinds of automation projects planned in Alabama and to learn skills necessary to implement systems in their own libraries.

The Alabama Public Library Service has continued to automate its internal procedures. The Honeywell DPS 6/54 minicomputer purchased in the previous year has been fully implemented to support word processing, records management, electronic spreadsheet analysis, as well as provide access to the IBM 3081 computer at the State Data Center to support the circulation functions of the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. APLS has increased its use of the Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET) online computer for interlibrary loan, cataloging, and acquisition functions. An additional bibliographic database, DIALOG, was added to supplement Bibliographic Retrieval Service (BRS) for online searching by subject.

LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT

Staff in the Library Development Division work with 192 local public libraries, which includes the thirty-one single and multicounty regional public libraries, to coordinate library services throughout Alabama. In addition, the Division administers federal and state aid programs of grants to public libraries and provides consultant and technical assistance to public library boards, librarians, elected officials of county and municipal governments. APLS consultants assist in continuing education activities and oversee statewide programs such as multitype library system development, summer reading program, and grant administration.

SUMMER READING PROGRAM

The statewide summer reading program materials were developed to focus on tourism in Alabama. Materials for Travellin' Alabama highlighted historical and cultural sites throughout the State. Over 23,500 children used the materials to travel through books and programs held in their public libraries. The 1983 materials, Super Sleuth, received a gold award from the Montgomery Chapter of the International Association of Business Communications.

Children's librarians met twice during the year to review and discuss children's books published in 1984. Publishers sent 1,526 books valued at $11,989 to the Alabama Public Library Service for the children's librarian to review. At the end of the year, these books were distributed to the participating libraries.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

In addition to the award for the 1983 summer reading program materials, the Alabama Public Library Service received a Gold Award from the Advertising Federation of Montgomery for its 1983 public service announcement, "Round It Up At The Library." Public Relations continued to provide publicity and printing support for the programs of the Alabama Public Library Service. The film catalog, Cinematics II, and the Trustee Handbook were printed and distributed. Staff in Public Relations assisted with the Friends of Alabama Libraries (FOAL) Fun Golf Tournament, FOAL workshops, and worked with the APLS Staff Association to hold an open house for the twenty-fifth anniversary of the state library agency.

FEDERAL AND STATE GRANTS

During 1984, APLS administered the awarding of $3,900,000 in federal and state aid grants to local public libraries. Of this amount, $1,957,846 in state aid was distributed on a per capita basis. State aid grants to public libraries were used for library materials and the extension of library services.

Federal funds in the amount of $672,428 were awarded under LSCA Title I for public library services. These competitive grants are awarded to those libraries with applications best meeting the goals of the federal grant program. Sixty-two local projects were funded. LSCA Title III funds, which are restricted to resource sharing projects, funded the multitype library systems and the Birmingham Resource Center, a back-up reference service which loans materials to libraries throughout the state.

PUBLIC LIBRARY CONSTRUCTION

For the first time since 1973, federal funds were available for public library construction. Appropriated under Public Law 98-8, "Jobs Bill," these funds were distributed under the LSCA Title II program. Thirteen projects were funded which included several new library buildings, four additions to existing buildings, and three renovated facilities. Local funds amounting to more than $1,000,000 matched the $1,119,784 available in federal funds.

Several new public libraries were completed without assistance from LSCA Title II and stand as tributes to the desire of communities to improve their public libraries. In Monroe County, the library board raised $300,000 to match a $100,000 Challenge Grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The September 30 dedication capped a three-year effort by the 22,651 residents to bring their new library to reality. In Birmingham, a new central library was built after voters overwhelmingly passed a bond issue measure. The Emmet O'Neal Library in Mountain Brook added 11,781 square feet to its building. The City of Pelham included the public library in its new civic center. Finally, residents of Atmore raised funds for a new building.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

Throughout the year, APLS offered continuing education activities. Public libraries completing the two-year Public Library Management Development program, received certificates for their participation. Seminars in library automation, financial management, personnel administration, and team building were offered.

Public library trustees participated in one-day workshops held at four locations. Nationally-known media consultant, Arch Lustberg, taught a lively session on "Testifying With Impact." Library Development staff introduced the new APLS Trustee Handbook and led sessions on principles of trusteeship.

Trustees and administrators attended a program on multitype library systems. Newark Public Library director, Tom Alrutz, spoke on the process of legislation for multitype libraries in New Jersey and Bob McClarren, director of the North Suburban System, spoke on the implementation of systems in Illinois.

The number of regional libraries grew to twenty-three. Two regional libraries replaced retiring directors with directors who held master's degrees in library science. A county library also achieved regional library designation by employing a professional librarian as director. APLS was pleased that two of these new directors earned their professional degrees with an APLS scholarship. A new public library was formed at Repton and affiliated with the Cross Trails Regional Library.

MULTITYPE LIBRARY SYSTEMS

The Alabama Library Exchange and the Pioneer Alabama Library System, which were established as three year pilot projects to test the feasibility of multitype library systems for Alabama, were evaluated by Dr. William Summers and Dr. Dan Barron of the University of South Carolina. The evaluation report found the governance structure of the systems was basically sound and found that the participants in the systems fully expected that the projects would devise new, additionally needed services. Interlibrary access had been greatly improved and resources of the participating libraries were being more fully and effectively utilized. The Pioneer Alabama Library System ceased to operate at the close of the pilot project. The Alabama Library Exchange, however, has become a fully operational multitype library system that facilitates resource sharing among its members. The evaluation recommended that the benefits of the systems be extended to other parts of the state.

LIBRARY OPERATIONS

On August 1, 1984, the Superintendent of Documents officially notified APLS of its designation as a selective Federal Documents Depository. Our notification culminated eight years of effort to obtain depository status and will bring to the state a wealth of information published by the federal government. These materials will be available to all libraries and state departments through the services of our Reference Department and the Alabama Library Information Network.

An excellent reference collection and staff, access to online bibliographic retrieval databases, and access to the holdings of libraries throughout the nation via SOLINET provide the basis for APLS reference services to public libraries throughout the state, other libraries, and state employees. In 1984/85, reference requests increased 8%. Requests from public libraries increased by 6% with a 16% increase in the number of requests by state employees. Overall circulations increased by 5% with the average turnaround time of 1.2 days for requests to be filled from the APLS collection.

Dramatic increase was experienced in the use of COPIC, an awareness service that alerts users to articles in current periodicals. The number of users increased by 132% with a 43% increase in the number of legislators who use the service to keep informed on the current issues facing them in the Legislature.

Several significant reference tools were added to the collection. PHONEFICHE, telephone directory information on microfiche, was added for all U. S. communities of 40,000 or more population. Other significant titles included ZIP FICHE, complete zip plus 4 information; NATIONAL NEWSPAPER INDEX; and the AREA BUSINESS DATABANK, a weekly service of hard-to-get business information. The MAGAZINE COLLECTION, magazine titles on microfiche, were added for most of the titles indexed in MAGAZINE INDEX. A total of 11,458 books were added to the collection at an average cost of $23.58 per title.

The efforts of staff in technical services to maintain and update the ALICAT and MICROCAT databases helped insure their maximum effectiveness of these tools when being used by libraries throughout the state. ALICAT, the union list of materials held in 82 public, college and university, and junior college libraries in Alabama, grew to 1,984,642 holdings records for over 1,181,025 title entries. ALICAT outgrew its microfilm format and was converted to microfiche at the close of the year. The catalog of the APLS collection, MICROCAT, grew to 80,552 titles displayed by author, title and subject headings. There are 67 copies of MICROCAT published for use by regional public libraries and to departments of state government.

DIVISION FOR THE BLIND AND PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED

A major success story at the Alabama Public Library Service is the dedication of volunteers who gave 3,080 person-hours to the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Volunteers record or braille books on demand for readers, record Alabamians, and repair talking book machines. Volunteers and staff also record materials requested during the legislative session to insure that our Legislator who is blind has access to needed information. In addition, the Division records tests administered by the State Personnel Department to insure that blind applicants have an equal opportunity to apply for state jobs.

The Division has 2,753 active readers. These patrons borrowed 44,318 recorded discs, 71,262 cassettes and 3,217 braille volumes. There are an additional 1,718 readers served by the subregional libraries in Anniston, Dothan, Huntsville, Talladega and Tuscaloosa.

AUDIOVISUAL DEPARTMENT

The Alabama Public Library Service published the second edition of its film catalog, Cinematics II, to highlight the 3,730 films in its collection. During the year there were 21,472 circulations of films which reached a reported audience of 1,343,407 Alabamians.

COOPERATIVE PROGRAMS

SOUTHEASTERN AUDIO-VISUAL EXCHANGE

The Alabama Public Library Service joined five other southern state library agencies to form the Southeastern Audio-Visual Exchange (SAVE). Members of SAVE agree to develop cooperatively their audiovisual resources by collecting more intensively in assigned subject areas. A joint catalog allows each member to use the total audiovisual resources.

HUMANITIES RESOURCE CENTER

The Humanities Resource Center reached over a quarter of a million Alabamians this year. The popularity of two new exhibits, "Black Women: Achievement Against the Odds" and "The Treaty of Paris," attracted new audiences. The Center supported seventeen public humanities seminars, "Shakespeare: The Theatre of the Mind," which were held in public libraries throughout the state. A new catalog highlighted the media and exhibits offered by the center. The Humanities complements the first catalog of the Center which included only materials in history and literature.

The Humanities Resource Center is a cooperative program of the Committee for the Humanities in Alabama and the Alabama Public Library Service. This year, the Committee awarded over $40,000 for salaries and expenses bringing to a total of $261,000 the Committee has awarded for the Center since its creation. The Alabama Public Library Service matches this grant with "in-kind" use of office space, services, and the use of APLS equipment.

FRIENDS OF ALABAMA LIBRARIES

The Friends of Alabama Libraries (FOAL) worked to inform Alabamians about the benefits of good library service and the need for increased funding for library programs. Six workshops held around the state resulted in a more effective legislative network.

The second annual FOAL Fun Golf Tournament raised funds for its efforts. The successful tournament was held just prior to the annual conference of the Alabama Library Association. Golfing skills proved unimportant as foursomes of legislators, civic leaders and librarians faced trick shots.

COALITION FOR THE PRESERVATION OF ALABAMA NEWSPAPERS

Alabama was one of five states and the only Southeastern state to receive a grant from the National Endowment of the Humanities to catalog newspapers published in the state. The Coalition for the Preservation of Alabama Newspapers received $184,781 for the three year project. The Coalition will match this with $159,586 for a total project cost of $344,367. Members of the Coalition include the Department of Archives and History, Alabama Public Library Service, Council of Librarians of the Alabama Commission on Higher Education, Association of County Commissions, Alabama Press Association, Alabama Library Association, and the Society of Alabama Archives. Grant funds will be used to enter bibliographic data for over 4000 Alabama newspaper titles into the CONSER database (a national online computer database). At the end of the grant period, Alabama will have a listing of newspaper titles and holdings in repositories throughout the state. In addition, the Alabama Public Library Service awarded an LSCA grant for $25,000 to the Birmingham Public Library to add their holdings to the project's union list of newspapers.

DEFINITIONS FOR STATISTICAL TABLES

The annual report of the Alabama Public Library Service includes general library statistics for the year October 1, 1983 through September 30, 1984. Public library statistics are listed in alphabetical order. Regional public libraries are listed first, with member libraries listed under them. Public libraries that are not members of a region follow. State of Alabama totals conclude the tables.

Financial reports are from unaudited accounts. Income and Expenditures were not required to balance for this statistical report.

Population reports are from the 1980 Census population of the area legally served by the library.

Total Staff in FTE includes all full-time and part-time staff. A full-time equivalent is computed on a thirty-five or more hours work week. Part-time staff is expressed as a decimal fraction of one.

Income and Expenditure are reported in dollars. Standard rounding at $.50 was used to eliminate cents in the entries.

City Income and County Income are the revenues received from local government sources. The value of services provided by a local government, but not charged to the library treasury, is included when a local government provided the actual cost of the service for this report.

General Revenue Sharing funds are included in the city and county income reported.

Other includes funds from all other sources.

Wages and Salaries keep include fringe benefits such as the employer's contribution to insurance, social security retirement, etc.

OVERVIEW

The Alabama Public Library Service [The State Library Agency] is proud of the progress made by libraries throughout the state. As we look back over the accomplishments of the past year, we find a record number of public libraries helping to ensure that Alabamians have equal access to information needed in their daily lives. The number of librarians available to assist users has increased, and the quality and quantity of the resources available to each Alabamian has grown dramatically. The successful implementation of the multitype library system concept helps ensure the most efficient and effective use of the state's total information resources so painstakingly developed in the past years. The application of new technology to library processes also helps ensure effective use of our scarce resources and provides faster, more efficient service for the library user.

It has been an exciting, innovative, prosperous and productive year. Much has been accomplished, but as always, much more needs to be done. It takes a continuous effort on everyone's part to make good libraries a necessary ingredient in today's world. The State of Alabama can well be proud of its nearly 200 public community libraries and proud of its state library agency, The Alabama Public Library Service.

HIGHLIGHTS FOR 1985

 Continued progress in the application of new technology was made. The developing statewide online circulation system was extended by adding additional libraries in north Alabama and the Birmingham area.

 The State legislature appropriated $3,270,445.06 for state aid to public libraries. State aid in the amount of $.85 per capita was distributed to public libraries in 1985.

 Funds for public library construction were added to the federal grants available from the Library Services and Construction Act. Federal aid was used to fund sixty-six programs for local public library service; assisted in the construction of eleven public library buildings; and enabled libraries of all types to share resources with each other.

 The Alabama Interlibrary Catalog [ALICAT] expanded to over 1,464,770 titles and 2,827,212 locations. These holdings represent over 82 libraries including public, academic and junior college.

 A statewide automation study was initiated with the cosponsorship of the Network of Alabama Academic Libraries [NAAL] and the endorsement of the Department of Education and the Post Secondary Education Department.

 Initial planning started on a new state publication law that will transfer responsibility of state documents to the Alabama Public Library Service.

 The implementation of the Alabama newspaper project being funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities in cooperation with the Department of Archives and History.

 The establishment of a second multitype library network in Southeast Alabama.

 Three million dollars in state funds for public library construction. First ever appropriated by the State Legislature.

NEW TECHNOLOGY IN ALABAMA'S PUBLIC LIBRARIES

This year saw tremendous strides being made in the ongoing program of Library Automation using computer technology to enable the local public libraries in Alabama to better serve their public.

Libraries are increasingly using new technology to automate services that will assist users in finding the information they need. With technical assistance and federal grant funds from the Alabama Public Library Service, local libraries continue to install online computer-based circulation systems that will eventually be links in a statewide network for resource sharing. Three nodes are in place for Montgomery, Birmingham-Jefferson County, and Northeast Alabama.

Each computer-based circulation system allows participating libraries to maintain circulation records online, query resources available and place reserves in all the libraries sharing the system, and automatically generate overdue notices. By telephone lines, each computer system can call the other systems to query availability and place reserves.

Of more immediate impact, several libraries within the state came "on-line" with automated circulation. The Autauga-Prattville Public Library System began automated circulation from the host system located at the Montgomery City-County Public Library. Huntsville-Madison County Library, as well as 2 branches, Decatur Public Library, Gadsden-Etowah County Public Library, and the Decatur City Schools all become operational joining the Library Management Network (LMN) located in Huntsville. Many libraries are at the threshold of automated circulation on these host systems, including the University of North Alabama, Muscle Shoals Regional Library, Northeast Alabama State Junior College, three major branches, Five Points West, Avondale and Springville, and two member libraries, Homewood and Mountain Brook, of the Birmingham Public-Jefferson County Library System. Still others have contracted to begin inputting their database which reflects the soundness of the Agency's efforts thus far and provides direction for the future.

APLS in conjunction with the Network of Alabama Academic Libraries (NAAL) contracted with RMG Consultants, Inc. to perform an analysis and develop recommendations and a plan for the use of automation to support the functions of the libraries and enhance resource sharing between all types of libraries within Alabama. While the benefits of this plan will not be immediately available, it will provide a basis for our future development and direction for many years to come. It will provide an organized approach for our efforts in providing the best library services possible to all of the citizens of Alabama.

The Alabama Public Library Service has continued to automate its internal procedures. The Honeywell DPS 6/54 minicomputer has been fully implemented to support word processing, records management, electronic spreadsheet analysis, as well as provide access to the IBM 3084 computer at the State Data Center to support the circulation functions of the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped.

Additional in-house improvements include automating leave accounting and reporting functions for the Business Office, mailing labels and the specialized reference service, COPIC, which is provided for state employees and the state legislature. This annual report is now being produced through the efforts of the Data Processing Department.

APLS has increased its use of the Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET) online computer for interlibrary loan, cataloging, and acquisition functions. An additional bibliographic database, DIALOG, was added to supplement Bibliographic Retrieval Service (BRS) for online searching by subject.

LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT

Staff in the Library Development Division work with 198 local public libraries, which includes the thirty-one single and multicounty regional public libraries, to coordinate library services throughout Alabama. In addition, the Division administers federal and state aid programs of grants to public libraries and provides consultant and technical assistance to public library boards, librarians, and elected officials of county and municipal govermments. APLS consultants assist in continuing education activities and oversee statewide programs such as multitype library system development, summer reading programs, and grant administration.

SUMMER READING PROGRAM

The statewide summer reading program materials were developed to focus on Summer Delights. Materials highlighted such delectable items as an ice cream cone and popcorn. Over 25,600 children used the materials to help make their summer a little more delightful through books and programs held in their public libraries.

Children's librarians met twice during the year to review and discuss children's books published in 1985. Publishers sent 1,555 books valued at $12,201 to the Alabama Public Library Service for the children's librarian to review. At the end of the year, these books were distributed to the participating libraries.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

The Alabama Public Library Service received several awards from the Advertising Federation of Montgomery for its printing and publication efforts. Public Relations continued to provide publicity and printing support for the programs of the Alabama Public Library Service. Staff in Public Relations assisted with the Friends of Alabama Libraries (FOAL) Fun Golf Tournament, FOAL workshops, and the first FOAL Legislative breakfast.

Six workshops were held throughout the state dealing with writing press releases, public service announcements, organizing press hits and the basics of newsletters. They were well attended and eagerly received. One of the highlights of the year was the taping of a 30-minute television program with the Director of APLS that covered a wide range of library services offered by the State Library Agency.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

Throughout the year, APLS offered continuing education activities. Public library trustees participated in one day workshops held at six locations. Nationally-known media consultant, Arch Lustberg, taught a lively session on "Testifying With Impact." Library Development staff provided an indepth seminar on children's services and programming.

As mentioned earlier in this report, there were six regional workshops held by the public relations office and the audiovisual consultant.

MULTITYPE LIBRARY SYSTEMS

The Alabama Library Exchange (ALEX) continued its ongoing programs. Additional school libraries have become members of the network.

Two outstanding projects developed by ALEX are the North Alabama Union List of Serials and the Library Management Network. Neither of these programs would have come about without the existence of the multitype network in place.

FEDERAL AND STATE GRANTS

During 1985, APLS administered the awarding of $3,853,498 in federal and state aid grants to local public libraries. Of this amount, $3,270,445 in state aid was distributed on a per capita basis. State aid grants to public libraries were used for library materials and the extension of library services.

Federal funds in the amount of $583,053 were awarded under LSCA Title I for public library services. These competitive grants are awarded to those libraries with applications best meeting the goals of the federal grant program. Sixty-six local projects were funded. LSCA Title III funds, which are restricted to resource-sharing projects, funded the multitype library systems and the Birmingham Resource Center, a back-up reference service which loans materials to libraries throughout the state.

LIBRARY OPERATIONS

An excellent reference collection and staff, access to online bibliographic retrieval databases, and access to the holdings of libraries throughout the nation via SOLINET provide the basis for APLS reference services to public libraries throughout the state, other libraries, and state employees. In 1984/85, reference requests increased 20%. Requests from public libraries increased by 11% with a 28% increase in the number of requests by state employees. Overall circulations increased by 13% with an average turnaround time of under 48 hours for requests to be filled from the APLS collection. There was a dramatic increase of 132% in the number of titles lent in response to requests received over OCLC.

A big increase was experienced in the use of COPIC, an awareness service that alerts users to articles in current periodicals. The number of users increased by 31%, mostly Legislators who use the service to keep informed on the current issues facing them in the Legislature.

Online databases were more fully utilized. Dialog use began in October. Number of searches using Dialog and BRS increased by 30%. Number of searches done utilizing IAC Search Helper software increased by 1,305% marking the beginning of effective utilization of this service. A total of 7,764 library items were added to the collection.

The efforts of staff in technical services to maintain and update the ALICAT and MICROCAT databases helped ensure their maximum effectiveness of these tools when being used by libraries throughout the state. ALICAT, the union list of materials held in over 82 public, college and university, and junior college libraries in Alabama, grew to 2,827,212 holdings records for over 1,464,770 title entries. ALICAT outgrew its microfilm format and was converted to microfiche at the close of the year. The catalog of the APLS collection, MICROCAT, grew to 88,889 titles displayed by author, title and subject headings. There are 67 copies of MICROCAT published for use by regional public libraries and to departments of state government.

DIVISION FOR THE BLIND AND PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED

A major success story at the Alabama Public Library Service is the dedication of volunteers, who gave 3,479 person-hours to the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, and now number 152 individuals. Volunteers record or braille books on demand for readers, record Alabamians, and repair talking book machines. Volunteers and staff also record materials requested during the legislative session to insure that our Legislator who is blind has access to needed information. In addition, the Division records tests administered by the State Personnel Department to insure that blind applicants have an equal opportunity to apply for state jobs.

The Division has increased from 2,753 active readers to 3,167. These patrons borrowed 45,094 recorded discs, 84,688 cassettes and 3,625 braille volumes. There are an additional 1,650 readers served by the subregional libraries in Anniston, Dothan, Huntsville, Talladega and Tuscaloosa.

One of the outstanding services provided by the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped is the recording and distribution of general election ballots on cassettes for the Secretary of State's office.

AUDIOVISUAL DEPARTMENT

With the second edition of its film catalog, Cinematics II already in the public libraries, circulation increased by approximately 21% with a 22% increase in audience viewing. A total of 26,491 films were shown 46,859 times and viewed by a reported audience of 1,718,262 Alabamians.

COOPERATIVE PROGRAMS

HUMANITIES RESOURCE CENTER

The Humanities Resource Center continued in cooperation with the Alabama Committee for the Humanities. However, due to a lack of funds on the part of the Committee for the Humanities, its operation was curtailed in preparation for closing the center by November 1, 1985.

This year, the Committee only awarded over $20,000 for salaries and expenses, a 50% reduction from the previous year. A total of $281,000 has been awarded by the Committee for the Resource Center since its creation. The Alabama Public Library Service has matched this grant with "in-kind" use of office space, services, and the use of APLS equipment.

FRIENDS OF ALABAMA LIBRARIES

The Friends of Alabama Libraries (FOAL) worked to inform Alabamians about the benefits of good library service and the need for increased funding for library programs.

The third annual FOAL Fun Golf Tournament raised funds for its efforts. Golfing skills proved unimportant as foursomes of legislators, civic leaders and librarians faced trick shots. The tournament is held annually during the Legislative session making it possible for Legislators to participate.

COALITION FOR THE PRESERVATION OF ALABAMA NEWSPAPERS

Alabama was one of five states and the only Southeastern state to receive a grant from the National Endowment of the Humanities to catalog newspapers published in the state. The Coalition for the Preservation of Alabama Newspapers received $184,781 for the three year project. The Coalition will match this with $159,586 for a total project cost of $344,367. Members of the Coalition include the Department of Archives and History, Alabama Public Library Service, Council of Librarians of the Alabama Commission on Higher Education, Association of County Commissions, Alabama Press Association, Alabama Library Association, and the Society of Alabama Archives. Grant funds will be used to enter bibliographic data for over 4000 Alabama newspaper titles into the CONSER database (a national online computer database). At the end of the grant period, Alabama will have a listing of newspaper titles and holdings in repositories throughout the state.

READING PROGRAM WITH PENSIONS AND SECURITY

During fiscal year 1985, the Alabama Public Library Service through the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped participated with the Medicaid Agency of the State of Alabama in the production of the "Dear Governor" and the "Governor's Column" radio programs. The former program is developed around a 15-minute interview with an expert on a particular subject, i.e. food stamp eligibility. The latter noted program is a four-minute session spent in answering actual questions on various issues mailed directly to the Governor's Office.

Under the provisions of the program, the Blind and Physically Handicapped Division provided recording studio time along with audio recording technicians, open reel audio tape for the master copy of each program and the facilities for the duplication of audio tapes prior to mailing to radio stations throughout the state.

During the year, 44 radio stations in Alabama aired the program.

DEFINITIONS FOR STATISTICAL TABLES

The annual report of the Alabama Public Library Service (The State Library Agency) includes general library statistics for the year October 1, 1984 through September 30, 1985. Public library statistics are listed in alphabetical order. Regional public libraries are listed first, with member libraries listed under them. Public libraries that are not members of a region follow. State of Alabama totals conclude the tables.

Financial reports are from unaudited accounts. Income and Expenditures were not required to balance for this statistical report.

Population reports are from the 1980 Census population of the area legally served by the library.

Total Staff in FTE includes all full-time and part-time staff. A full-time equivalent is computed on a thirty-five or more hours work week. Part-time staff is expressed as a decimal fraction of one.

Income and Expenditures are reported in dollars. Standard rounding at $.50 was used to eliminate cents in the entries.

City Income and County Income are the revenues received from local government sources. The value of services provided by a local government, but not charged to the library treasury, is included when a local government provided the actual cost of the service for this report.

General Revenue Sharing funds are included in the city and county income reported.

Other includes funds from all other sources.

Wages and Salaries include fringe benefits such as the employer's contribution to insurance, social security retirement, etc.
